Dear Sir,

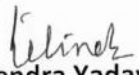

As you are aware MHA has created a new Division namely, National Mission for the Safety of Women (NMSW) to comprehensively address the issues of women's safety. The division would deal with all the aspects of women's safety in coordination with relevant Ministries/Departments of the Government of India and State Governments.

BPR&D has been assigned the responsibility to conduct and sponsor training programmes in the State Police Institutions in order to address the issues of Investigation and Prosecution of Offences against women particularly, rape. As a training aid we require SAECK (Sexual Assault Evidence Collection Kit) to give hands on training to police personnel.

BPR&D proposes to produce approx. 4,000 nos of such kit which may be costing approx. Rs. 90 lakhs.

It is requested to introduce a new category under the name "SAECK Kit" with the specifications and quality assurance certificate attached herewith as exhibit.

Regards
